West Sac continues adding water meters

State calls for 20 percent reduction in water use; over 40 percent of local houses still not metered

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

It's a drought year, and both state and local officials want Californians to find ways to use 20 percent less water. But many West Sacramentans have no way to measure that: this city is among those communities, mostly in the Central Valley, that don't yet have a meter on every water connection.

It's not possible for at least 40 percent of local customers to know how much water they're using. Sacramento has a similar problem.

"We have 14,590 accounts," West Sacramento public works director Denix Anbiah told the News-Ledger. "8,500 are metered. All the businesses are metered, but on the residential side, we are doing it one piece at a time."

DENIX ANBIAH, West Sacramento to Public Works Director, reports that the city is "on pace" to be completely metered by the 2018 state deadline (courtesy photo)

Right now, that means the Westmore Oaks area is getting a water meter retrofit, street by street. That neighborhood is bounded by Park Boulevard, Deerwood Street, Clarendon Street, Norfolk Avenue and Webster Street. About 600 new meters are going in, raising the city to the mark of being 60 percent metered.

Target for completing every neighborhood is 2018 – as required by the state – said Anbiah.

Some cities – like Los Angeles, Oakland and San Jose – have had water meters in place for a half century or more.

Once a house is metered in West Sacramento, homeowners have the option of being charged for their water either on a flat rate or on a "tiered" basis, where low water-users can pay less and heavy users will pay more. The flat rate is still the "default" for residential customers of the city water system.

"All of the commercial users are metered," Anbiah said. "Residential has an option. If the meter is installed, they can call us and request metered billing. But once they do, they can't go back."

(Residents can request billing at the metered rate by calling the city finance department, 916-617-4575.)

Anbiah said that any new construction in West Sacramento is built with water meters. But a lot of older areas still need the retrofit. The process of installing a meter at a home's water line can be relatively simple if the water connection is in front, near a sidewalk, he said.

Who uses the most water in California?

Often, it's the drier inland areas who have the most demand for landscape irrigation. Demand is also higher in communities with water-using businesses. Demand is usually heavier inland than it is along California' coast.

The San Jose Mercury news last month published an online database of water use, per capita, throughout California. The data comes from the state Department of Water Resources. It can be found at www.mercurynews.com/drought/ci_25090363.

The database shows West Sacramento residents consuming 305 gallons of water per day per person, compared to 279 gallons in Sacramento, 289 in Woodland, 202 in Davis and 172 in Vacaville. That database, though, includes business consumption. So it tilts the scale higher in places with, for example, food processing plants.

Anbiah, the city's public works director for about the past six months, said there is a penalty if West Sacramento doesn't finish metering by the state deadline.

"If we don't meet the 2018 deadline to install all the water meters, it may have an impact on the City's ability to negotiate a new water contract, which will also have an impact on the water rates," he said.

The governor and local jurisdictions are also pushing the "conserve water" message very hard in 2014, due to the continuing drought.

The City of Sacramento this month approved a "cash for grass" program, giving rebates to homeowners who take out their thirsty green lawns and replace them with drought-tolerant landscaping. Sacramento has set aside $100,000 to offer rebates that might reach 50 cents per square foot of lawn, up to 1,000 square feet per applicant, reports the Bee.

The News-Ledger asked the West Sacramento Public Works Director if this city was looking at anything similar.

"We don't have that right now," answered Anbiah. "If it were to come, it would have to come from the city council."

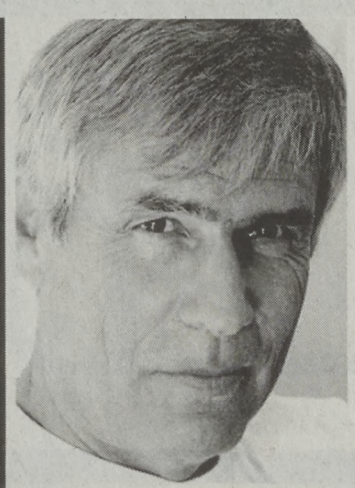
On Saturday morning, spring arrived

There are now 60 years of tradition in West Sacramento Little League. The local youth baseball experience spans several generations.



My Back Pages

By Daryl Fisher

For as long as I can remember, one of the surefire ways to know that spring has finally arrived in West Sacramento is that our local little leagues are beginning to hum with activity. Teams have been picked, fundraisers have begun, Picture Day has been scheduled, practice has started, and best of all, Opening Day is just around the corner.

I have written at length about the West Sacramento Little League (WSLL) in the past, including my four years of playing in it and its wonderful history, stretching back 60 long years now. I have also used this column to remind our readers of some of the very special men who worked tirelessly back in the 1950s to create what is now one of the best little leagues in the greater Sacramento region – men like James Cameron, Jack Dunlap, Clyde Burt, Carl Youngblood, Joe Bottino, Herb Hoskins, John Kimbrough, Leroy McReynolds, Red McKinnon, Bob Lukins, Bob Domasky, Bill Havey, and many others whose names I'm afraid I have long forgotten. There was also a time when you could not go into one of our local "Mom and Pop" businesses without seeing a framed picture of the Little League team they were sponsoring that year, and many of our town's best businesses continue that tradition to this day. Anyway, this year's WSLL Opening Day ceremonies were held this past Saturday at West Sacramento's Memorial Park, and that brings me to my little story:

A few years ago I wrote a tongue-in-cheek column about how our city's longtime mayor, Christopher Cabaldon, had been invited to throw out the first pitch at a Sacramento River Cats game, only to end up throwing the ball about ten feet straight into the ground, qualifying as arguably one of the worst "first pitches" ever thrown in this area's baseball-rich history. Being the very good politician he is, Mayor Cabaldon apparently told others he thought the column was actually quite funny and that efforts on his part to close down the News-Ledger because of it were only rumors.

Anyway, as is always the case in life, what goes around comes around, and there I was last Saturday morning, having been invited to be one of five people (including Russell Dunsmore, city council members Chris Ledesma, and Mark Johannessen, and county supervisor Oscar Villegas) to throw out the first pitch at this year's WSLL Opening Day ceremonies.

As I stood next to one of the dugouts on the major league diamond, which was surrounded by numerous local citizens and most of the parents and grandparents of the hundreds of little leaguers who had been assembled out in the infield in their colorful new uniforms, I suddenly found myself getting a little nervous. Then Oscar Villegas walked over, smiled and told me he had been practicing a bit because he didn't want to "pull a Cabaldon" and end up in my column for having thrown a first pitch into the ground. So I figured I better warm up a little bit, too, and grabbed Mark Johannessen, who looked as nervous as I was, and we tossed a baseball back and forth a few times to get loose. Then when I suddenly heard my name announced, I grabbed my 8 year old grandson for support and dragged him out to the mound with me. With the help of a very good catcher from one of the major league teams, I did manage to get my first pitch all the way to home plate and caught, but not without suddenly having great empathy for Mayor Cabaldon and all the other poor souls who get asked to throw out first pitches at baseball games!

Oh, and for the record, Oscar threw the best pitch, hard and true, with Chris and Russell doing very well, too. Mark had a bounce in his, but it was right over the heart of the plate and that is always what counts. Plus you have to cut him some slack because he's a left-hander.

On my way back to the grandstand, I told my grandson, Riley, that I really appreciated him going out to the mound with me because I had been pretty nervous with all those people watching me, to which he replied, "That's okay, Nepa, I was a little nervous myself."

This year's WSLL has over 500 kids enrolled in it and they range in age from 4-14. The league's officers this year are Ron Yarbrough, president; Lennie Gladue, vice president; Debbie Johnson, secretary/information officer; Lisa Simpson, fundraising/sponsorship; Lindsay Williams, snack bar coordinator; Tom Platina and Andy Hamel, player agents; Kevin Baker, coaching coordinator; Paul Crews, umpire-in-chief; Doug Tolson and Ed Perez, field maintenance; Adam Williams, chief scorekeeper/equipment manager; and Jennifer Engstrom, treasurer. Clint Bassett also spent months working on the fields to have them in great shape for Opening Day.

WSLL will be fielding more than 40 teams this year, and here are their names and managers:

Majors: Yankees, Jason Gregory; Giants, Tim Twardosz; Dodgers, Andy Hamel; Indians, Sean Laffan; Marlins, Todd Kramer.

AAA: River Cats, Matt Novak; Volcanoes, Kyle Kelly; Nuts, Jimmy Gonzales; Knights, Landon Schadel; Bulls, Ernesto Mendez; Marauders, Paul Capel; Fightin' Phils, Kevin Griffiths.

year old man from Rockrose Court riding a bike at night without a light, on the wrong direction of a roadway and on the sidewalk. He shouted at the rider to stop, but the man tried to flee. He was caught and arrested. His mount was a black "beach cruiser" bicycle. It was evidently impounded by police (available records weren't clear).

Then, on March 12, a similar bike was reported stolen from the 1000-block of Jefferson Blvd.

Later that day, the arrested man came to the police lobby to reclaim the impounded "beach cruiser." Officers were notified, and they contacted the man across the street from the police station.

The man "stated under Miranda that he bought the bike from a friend across the street."

Then he added that "he thought he would be charged with the stolen bike yesterday, but he wasn't."

March 13, 1:48 a.m.

A vacant home on Inglewood Drive was found burglarized. The loss was estimated at $3,700.

March 13, 10 a.m.

A Sharian Street woman reported she had been assaulted by three people while walking home. The incident took place at Kegle Drive and Cummins Way. She was now being treated at the UC Davis Medical Center.

March 13, 7:53 p.m.

An officer was attending to a traffic accident on the 1700-block of West Capitol when he heard an argument nearby involving a man and a woman.

He talked to the woman and then the man. When he returned to the woman, he saw a "Tic Tac" container on the ground near her.

"In the container I could clearly see a small twisted piece of plastic containing a white crystal substance," the officer reported. The substance was "consistent with the appearance of methamphetamine."

When asked, the woman said "she placed the Tic Tac container on the ground but was not aware that it had methamphetamine in it."

The 44-year old Sacramento woman went to jail.

March 13, 9:38 p.m.

Police were dispatched to a report that two men had fired shots on the 1000-block of West Capitol. They contacted a 26-year old mobile home park resident, who admitted to being on parole, and his brother.

The brother had an "Air Soft" gun. A search of the parolee turned up several pellets for the gun in his pants pocket. The parolee was held for violating his parole by "being in the presence of a weapon."

March 13, 11:45 p.m.

A Madrone Avenue man reported someone had entered his home and stolen a safe and some instruments, worth around $5,000.

March 14, 6 a.m.

Somebody took the batteries ($400) from a business's truck during the night, on Reed Avenue.

March 14, 11:30 a.m.

Police responded to the report that a man was going through recycling bins. They contacted a 36-year old homeless man on Roundhill Court, arresting him for "unauthorized removal of recyclables from (a) recycling bin."

March 14, 1:30 p.m.

A West Sacramento man reported a scam: someone claiming to be from the IRS phoned him and claimed he owed money.

March 14, 3 p.m.

A Headslane Road woman reported a house burglary "sometime today."

Thieves took about $5,800 worth of electronics and jewelry, including a wedding band.

March 15, 12:40 a.m.

An officer on patrol saw two cars parked side-by-side on Merkley Avenue. One of them, a white Chevy pickup truck, was parked in the roadway and facing the wrong direction.

The officer contacted a man and two women at the scene. The man said he had been driving the pickup truck, which belonged to "a friend," and that the women hadn't been in it.

The officer performed a records check and found the truck was stolen. The man was detained. A search of the pickup turned up 0.15 grams of methamphetamine and a glass drug pipe. The suspect went to jail.

March 16, 9:46 a.m.

An officer spotted a Nissan with expired registration tags on Hobson Avenue, and pulled it over.

The driver, a 58-year old Sacramento Avenue man, was on parole and admitted that his driver's license was also expired. He was detained in the back of a patrol car. A search turned up a hypodermic needle in the man's pants pocket. He went to jail on parole violations, and the car was impounded.

March 16, 3:34 a.m.

A West Sacramento man reported that an "unknown person took a Molotov cocktail and threw it at the victim's residence." (Location of the incident was unavailable to the press.)

March 16, 6:12 a.m.

Police were summoned for a "partially naked subject" at West Capitol and Merkley. A 50-year old woman from Tahoe Street was arrested for a warrant.

March 15, 10:57 p.m.

"Money and gold coins" were taken from a West Sacramento home (location not available). The $2,875 loss included about $2,500 in "dollar-sized gold coins," and rosary.

EDITOR'S NOTE: The West Sacramento Police Department is undergoing a transition in its data management. Because of this, we currently have access to many of the department's arrest reports, but not to the logs of calls for service and reports of crime.

Responding to an inquiry from the News-Ledger, a spokesman said the department hopes for a solution in early 2014.

We hope to again be able to search through more material when compiling this weekly log.

RCHS tennis starts 2014 season with 4-1 record

From River City High School

After dropping the season opener to visiting Cosumnes Oaks 6 to 3, the River City High School tennis team reeled off four straight wins last week. A 9 to 1 win over Amador started the streak as boys singles players Alan Tern and Joseph Johnston led the way with 6-0,6-0 and 6-0,6-2 wins, respectively. The mixed doubles pair of Phillip Dinh and Jessie Olsen also impressed with their 10-1 win.

A 7 to 2 road victory over Liberty Ranch came next as the Raiders dominated the doubles matches. Matthew Tagupa and Muradan Chhay teamed for a 6-0,6-0 win at #1 boys doubles and Alex Vigil paired with Dinh to take #2 boys 6-0,6-1. In girls doubles, Lily He and Beatrice Bui came back from a second set loss to win at #1 6-2,3-6,(10-3) and Jessica Ngo and Jasmine Benafghoul cruised to a 6-2,6-1 win at #2. Akshay Prabhakar and Olsen won easily in mixed, 6-1,6-0.

The Bear River Bruins left West Sacramento after losing to the Raiders 7 to 2. Lily He played her best tennis of the young season in a 6-0,6-0 win at #1 girls singles, Julia Quenga took the #2 match 6-0,6-4, and RC swept all five doubles matches again.

The week ended with an 8 to 1 win over visiting Lindhurst as Tern, He, and Quenga took care of their opponents in singles and the girls doubles pairs of Nicole Melido and Bui (6-1,6-2 at #1) and Carlie Blevins and Benafghoul (6-1,6-0 at #2) breezed past the Blazer duos.

River City's next home match is Thursday, March 20th at 4pm against El Dorado.

COUCH THEATER DVD PREVIEWS
BY SAM STRUCKHOFF

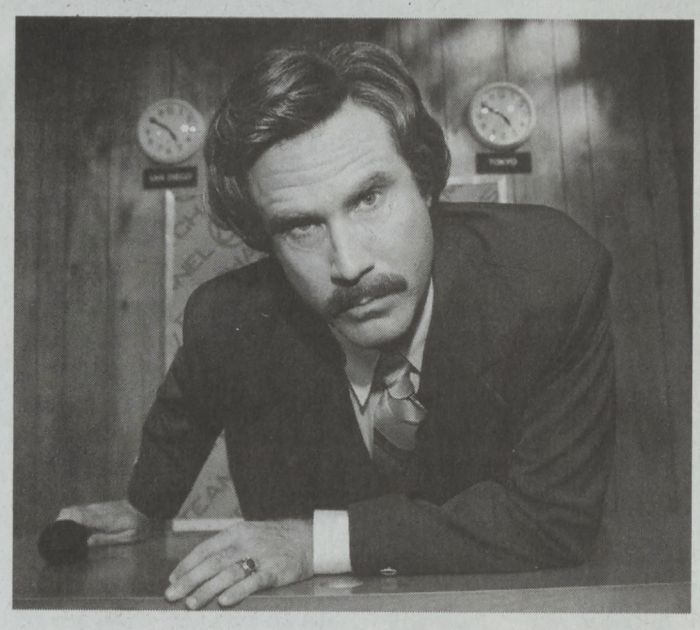
PICKS OF THE WEEK

"47 Ronin" (PG-13) -- After their master is betrayed and forced to commit suicide, 47 samurai warriors vow to get revenge. Kai (Keanu Reeves) is a half-breed who will somehow play an instrumental role in vanquishing the supernatural evil that awaits the ronin. Set in a dour and mystical version of feudal Japan, the titular warriors must do battle with a sly sorceress (Rinko Kikuchi) and a limping plot.

Really, for an action-adventure story about revenge and shape-shifting monsters, this film is kind of a bummer. None of the samurai get to be three-dimensional characters. Reeves looks committed to his role as the honor-bound servant, but even he seems like he'd rather be in a different movie.

"The Bag Man" (R) -- Jack (John Cusack) is a hitman with a simple task: pick up a bag, take it to a seedy hotel in the middle of nowhere, and wait for his boss to come pick it up. Oh, and do not look in the bag, under any circumstances. Things go awry from the start, and Jack arrives at the creepy hotel with a body in his trunk and a bullet hole in his hand. A steady trickle of bizarre characters appear as the body count piles up.

Robert De Niro plays Dragna, the crime boss who tends to blather on with pseudo-philosophical nonsense. With a script this full of weirdness and unearned violence, you really get the idea that Cusack and De Niro weren't interested in the project for its artistic merits.



Will Ferrell in 'Anchorman 2'

"Anchorman 2: The Legend Continues" (PG-13) -- Ron Burgundy (Will Ferrell) and his crack news team return for more absurd, man-child antics. The last movie left off with Ron on top of the world, married to his beautiful rival/co-host, and the toast of San Diego. Seven years later, the decadent '70s are over, and Ron must reassemble his original news team to take on an early 24-hour news channel. Ferrell and director/friend Adam Mckay follow the same formula that worked in the past -- let funny people improvise their way through the scenes and see what makes people laugh.

"Knights of Badassdom" (R) -- Three friends (Peter Dinklage, Steve Zahn and Ryan Kwanten) are out LARPing (that is Live-Action Role-Playing, or dressing up like fantasy adventurers and fighting outside with foam swords), and it's all going well until one of them recites a spell from an old book bought online. Suddenly, the pretend warriors are threatened by a real succubus from real Hell. It's an oddball comedy made with loving care for geeks and the people who love them.

"Chronicling the West for Harper's: Coast to Coast with Frenzeny & Tavernier in 1873-1874" by Claudine Chalmers (University of Oklahoma Press, $45)
Reviewed by Larry Cox

During the summer of 1873, two artists, Paul Frenzeny and Jules Tavernier, hired by Harper's Weekly magazine to document the American West, boarded the newly constructed transcontinental railroad. Accompanied by their beloved pointer, Judy, they departed New York City that July.

Harper's Weekly traced its beginnings to John and James Harper, who established their first printing press in New York in 1817. Sixteen years later two more siblings, Wesley and Fletcher, joined the company, and it became Harper and Brothers. The first issue of Harper's Weekly rolled off the presses in 1857.

It offered its readers 16 folio pages filled with news of America and the world, all for 5 cents a copy. The newspaper became especially essential during the Civil War, as it set the standard for illustrated journalism in the United States.

"Chronicling the West for Harper's" showcases 100 illustrations that Frenzeny and Tavernier made for the magazine during their cross-country assignment over a two-year period, 1873 and 1874. For readers around the world, these drawings brought to life the newly accessible territories, their diverse inhabitants and the turbulent, changing frontier.

Author Claudine Chalmers, an independent historian, focuses on the life and work of these two remarkable men as they visited such places as Pittsburgh, Missouri, Texas, the Neosho Valley in Kansas, Fort Gibson in present-day Oklahoma, Colorado, Nebraska, Arizona and Utah, eventually ending their journey in San Francisco during the summer of 1874.

The illustrations are extraordinary, from branding cattle in Texas to quarrying stone for the new Mormon Temple in Utah, and from Chinatown in San Francisco to encountering a prairie windstorm in Kansas. With pencil and woodblock, Frenzeny and Tavernier redefined American journalism and captured the American frontier as never before.

The Kitchen Diva BY Angela Shelf Medearis

Eat Your Way to Good Health

"You are what you eat!" The phrase was coined in 1923 as part of an advertising campaign, but the idea that you need to eat good food to be fit and healthy has been around much longer.

Even simple diet choices can boost our immune system, said Susan Mills-Gray, Nutrition and Health Education specialist with University of Missouri Extension. Here are some simple things that can boost your immune system to work at peak performance.

¥ Get plenty of liquids to help prevent viruses and bacteria from taking up residence in your body. According to Dr. Riva Rahl of the Cooper Clinic in Dallas, "The mucus in your nose is actually one of the key physical barriers that keep germs out of your body. When you're not well hydrated, it dries up and doesn't provide that barrier."

¥ Protein is a building block for a healthy immune system. Choose lean red meats, poultry and fish, dried beans and soy. You also can choose protein-rich plant sources with heart-healthy fat, like peanut butter and nuts.

¥ Foods with antioxidant-rich vitamins C and E protect cells -- including those of your immune system -- from damage by toxins in the environment. Choose citrus fruits/juices, melons, mangoes, kiwi, peppers, tomatoes, berries, broccoli, cabbage, sweet/white potatoes, winter squash, leafy greens, almonds, hazelnuts, peanut butter, sunflower seeds, safflower oil, whole grains and fortified cereals several times a day.

¥ Eat probiotic foods to help build up the good bacteria in the intestines. These bacteria play a role in helping fend off illnesses. Any fermented food is rich in this type of good bacteria, so choose yogurt, sauerkraut, tofu, brine-treated pickles and aged cheese at least daily.

¥ Add a zinc-rich food to your daily diet to increase the production of white blood cells in your body. Research shows that this effect can reduce the number of days you'll suffer from a cold. Some foods rich in zinc are yogurt, lean red meat, poultry and fish, almonds, pumpkin seeds and fortified cereals. This recipe for Slow-Roasted Salmon with Horseradish Yogurt Topping contains many of the foods that nutritionists recommend for a healthy immune system. Eat your way to good health!

SLOW-ROASTED SALMON WITH TOPPING

Slow roasting the salmon in a low-temperature oven gently melts the fat between the flesh and leaves the fillets incredibly moist and tender. The spicy horseradish and yogurt topping adds a punch of flavor to the mild fish.

1 1/2 tablespoons extra-virgin olive oil, divided
4 (6-to 8-ounces) boneless salmon fillets, skin on
1 tablespoon chopped fresh thyme
3 cloves garlic, minced
Zest of 1 lemon
1/2 teaspoon ground sage
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
4 lemon wedges (for serving)

1. Preheat oven to 275 F. Line a rimmed baking sheet with aluminum foil or parchment paper. Brush with 1/2 tablespoon oil. Place salmon fillets, skin side down, on prepared baking sheet.

2. Mix remaining oil, thyme, garlic, lemon zest, sage, salt and pepper in a small bowl. Spread thyme mixture over salmon fillets, dividing equally. Let stand 10 minutes to allow flavors to meld.

3. Bake salmon until just opaque in center, 15-18 minutes. Serve with lemon wedges. Serves 4.

HORSERADISH YOGURT TOPPING

1/2 tablespoon prepared horseradish
1/2 cup Greek yogurt
2 teaspoons capers
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon freshly ground pepper

In a small bowl, mix together horseradish, yogurt, capers, salt and pepper. Refrigerate 15 to 20 minutes to allow flavors to combine. Place a tablespoon on each piece of cooked salmon.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF GERTRUDE VON DORSTEN
CASE NUMBER PB14-43

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of GERTRUDE VON DORSTEN:

A Petition for Probate has been filed by Dennis Lanni in the Superior Court of California, County of Yolo.

The Petition for Probate requests that Dennis Lanni be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

The petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A hearing on the petition will be held in this court as follows: April 22, 2014, at 9:00 a.m. in Dept. 2, Superior Court of California, County of Yolo, 725 Court St., Room 308, Woodland CA 95695.

If you object to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

If you are a creditor or a contingent creditor of the deceased, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within four months from the date of first issuance of letters as provided in Probate Code section 9100. The time for filing claims will not expire before four months from the hearing date noticed above.

You may examine the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a "Request for Special Notice" (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A "Request for Special Notice" form is available from the court clerk.

NOTICE OF AVAILABILITY OF DRAFT SUPPLEMENTAL EIR

A Draft Supplemental Environmental Impact Report has been prepared for the Two Rivers Cement LLC Throughput Expansion and Lease Agreement. The project is located on a 3.5-acre site in the Port of West Sacramento located at 2895 Industrial Boulevard in the City of West Sacramento in Yolo County. The Port is located approximately .5 miles south of U.S. Highway 50 and 1.25 miles west of Interstate 5. The project site is generally bounded by Industrial Boulevard to the north and east, the Sacramento Deep Water Channel to the south, and Lake Washington to the west. The project site is located in the southwestern portion of the Port.

This Draft SEIR has been prepared to address the potential environmental impacts of the proposed project. In 2005, the Sacramento-Yolo Port District certified the Final Environmental Impact Report (FEIR) for the A&A Cement Import and Distribution Facilities project and approved the necessary lease agreement between the Port and A&A to permit an annual throughput of up to 800,000 metric tons of cement. Two Rivers Cement, LLC, the current owner of the cement terminal, is requesting to amend the existing lease agreement to increase its annual throughput from 800,000 metric tons (existing permitted limit) to 2,000,000 metric tons (requested limit).

The Draft SEIR notes impacts on the environment and contains mitigation measures, which if implemented, would reduce the potential impacts to less than significant. The SEIR also notes impacts which cannot be mitigated.

Copies of the Draft SEIR are on file in the office of the West Sacramento Community Development Department at 1110 West Capitol Avenue, 2nd Floor, West Sacramento, CA 95691 (telephone: 916/617-4645). Copies of the document may be reviewed at the Community Development Department during normal business hours. The document can also be reviewed on the City's web site at www.cityofwestsacramento.org. The Draft SEIR is also available for review at the Arthur F. Turner Branch Library located 1212 Merkley Avenue in West Sacramento.

ny affected or interested parties may comment on the Draft SEIR beginning on March 19, 2014. Comments are due before 5:00 p.m. on May 5, 2014, by calling or writing to Sandra J. White, Senior Planner, Community Development Department, at the above address and telephone number. Upon completion of the review period, a Final SEIR will be prepared based on the input received regarding the Draft SEIR.
